

The Cambridge Action Network presents

8.30pm Weds 27 April @ the Bharat Bhavan (old Mill Road Library)

“And then they came for the Travellers”

an evening of film and discussion about the travelling community in Britain

In recent months, gypsies and travellers have been the subject of a vicious hate campaign by both politicians and the right-wing press. As an antidote to this, we present an opportunity to hear from travellers themselves, as well as those who have worked closely with them.

Directions: the Bharat Bhavan is the large hall on the left just before the railway as you head out of town along Mill Road. Enter from the side, through the large red door.
